

ED SHINNICK PRESIDENT

Press Association Elects Officers at Olympian Springs.

BOYS ARE HAVING BIG TIME.

T. C. Underwood, of Hopkinsville, Entertained Association With Fine Paper.

Olympian Springs, Ky., June 14.—The Kentucky Press Association yesterday elected its officers. As is the custom of the association, Vice President E. D. Shinnick, of Shelbyville, moved one point higher, succeeding Gen. W. B. Haldeman, of Louisville. John S. Lawrence of Cadiz, former chairman of the Executive Committee, was made vice president, and J. R. Lemon, of Mayfield, was elected unanimously as chairman of the Executive Committee to succeed Mr. Lawrence. J. C. Alcock, of Jeffersontown, was re-elected unanimously as secretary. After the applause had died away President Shinnick made a short speech, thanking the members of the association for the honor which had been conferred upon him. He then announced the following men as members of the new Executive Committee: J. S. Stears, Nicholasville; J. B. Gaines, Bowling Green; Robert J. McBryde, Jr., Louisville, and John J. Barry, New Haven.

At the business session T. C. Underwood, of Hopkinsville, known to every newspaper man in Kentucky as "Tom," entertained the association at the morning session with a fine paper on "Fakes and Facts." He prefaced his paper with a few remarks which sent messages all over the grounds that Mr. Underwood was speaking, and immediately the place was filled. The body will adjourn today.

MORE JOBS GIVEN OUT

Mayo, Haly and Vansant Get an Unsalaried Job, and So Do Several Others.

Frankfort, Ky., June 12.—In addition to the appointment of Dan O'Sullivan, Henry Lawrence and M. F. Conley, as prison commissioners, and Thomas J. Smith, of Richmond, as banking commissioner, the Governor this morning announced the following appointments:

Tuberculosis Board—Dr. H. V. Williams, of Frankfort; Mrs. Desha Breckinridge, of Lexington; Miss Tevis Camden, of Versailles; Dr. S. S. Keller, of Frankfort; Dr. Ed. W. Morris, of Sulphur; Bernard Flexner and Dr. R. P. Yoe, of Louisville.

Fish and Game Commissioners—J. G. Sachs, of Louisville; A. G. Patterson, of Pineville; A. R. Burnam, of Richmond, and J. E. Crider, of Cridger.

State Geologist—J. B. Hoenig, of Lexington.

Special Agent of Game Commission—J. Quincy Ward, of Paris.

Advisory Board of Geological Survey—J. C. C. Mayo, Percy Haly and Rufus Vansant.

State Board of Forestry—James N. Camden, of Versailles; Mrs. Mason Maury, of Louisville; W. H. McCoy, of Covington.

White Blackbird Captured.

Mrs. Mary G. Walker brought to the Advocate office a curiosity in the shape of a "white" blackbird. The bird was caught in the yard of the School for the Deaf and had a mate that is a "black" blackbird. Both are young ones. Mrs. Long caught birds. Mrs. Walker is going to try to raise the young curio—Danville Advocate.

O'SULLIVAN CHAIRMAN

Of The New Prison Board As Organized Thursday At Frankfort.

LAWRENCE GETS SHORT TERM

W. F. Grayot Resigns As Secretary And The Place Not Yet Filled.

Frankfort, Ky., June 14.—Daniel E. O'Sullivan, was elected chairman of the newly-created Prison Commission at its first meeting, held in the Governor's office. The commissioners, M. F. Conley, Henry R. Lawrence and Mr. O'Sullivan, then drew lots to see which would get the long and which the short terms. Mr. Lawrence drew the two-year term and the other two the four-year terms. The law provides that two shall serve for four years and one for two years, but the two-year term man is eligible for reappointment and the others are not. Mr. Lawrence, therefore, is eligible to serve six years.

The new commission held only a formal meeting and did nothing except of a routine nature. The old officers of the penitentiaries were continued in their positions for the present, and no appointments will be made probably for several days. The new commission will visit the Frankfort penitentiary. It is likely that the commission will make an inspection of both penitentiaries before making the appointments of wardens and guards.

MCCREARY COUNTY.

Officers Named For The New County.

The following officers have been appointed by the Governor for the new county of McCreary: County attorney, W. F. Hinkle; County Clerk, Jos. Myrick; Circuit Clerk, Smith Morris; Sheriff, Preston Bell; Superintendent of Schools, W. F. Gilreath; Jailer, W. F. Roberts; Surveyor, J. B. Ballou; Coroner, Ed Shelley; Assessor, W. P. Johnson, Commissioners, Morris Hays and R. P. McDaniel, Democrats, and W. B. Creechmore, Republican.

The County Judge was not named, but it is expected that J. B. Goode, of Pine Knot, will be appointed.

WINN TO DROP OUT.

A Politician Who Keeps a Promise When Made.

In pursuance of a promise made to Judge A. J. Kirk, Judge Robert J. Winn, of Mt. Sterling, has declined to enter the race for the Republican nomination for Appellate Judge in the Seventh Appellate district, to fill out the unexpired term of Judge Ed C. O'Rear.

Judge Kirk insisted on making the race now, contending that it was the end of Judge O'Rear's term. Judge Winn's friends tried to persuade Judge Kirk not to run now, but when he refused to withdraw, Judge Winn complied with his pledge and will not oppose Judge Kirk.

South Dakota's Mixture.

Pierre, S. D., June 14.—Wire returns on delegates to the democratic national convention received today by the secretary of state from all five counties give the Wilson-Bryan delegates, 4,666; the Clark-Bryan delegates, 4,349, and the Champ Clark list, 2,874. Indications now are that the delegation will be contested.

The City Council of Frankfort has ordered down three blocks of asphalt streets.

JOHN MAYO

Easily the Richest Man in State of Kentucky.

The following interesting sketch of the rise of J. C. C. Mayo is from the Princeton Leader:

The new Democratic committee-man from Kentucky is one of the most remarkable men the state has ever produced. Twenty-five years ago he was a poor school teacher in the Kentucky mountains, with no apparent chance of ever amassing wealth. Today he is a millionaire many times over. His fortune is estimated at anywhere from $5,000,000 to $25,000,000. It is constantly growing. He made all his money in the Kentucky mountains and he has made it all himself. It is based on the pennies and dollars he saved out of his scanty earnings as a school teacher.

The story of Mayo's rise to wealth is one of the most interesting in the annals of American millionaires. While it is not spectacular it is a remarkable example of what foresight and grasping of opportunities at hand may lead to.

Mayo was born 48 years ago in Paintsville, Johnson county, Ky., which is in the mountains. His parents had nothing save a livelihood and at an early age young Mayo began to teach school.

The Kentucky mountains were full of coal, but at that time the railroads had not penetrated them at all. The coal was so far from market that it was valueless and there was no prospect that there would be a market for it.

Mayo realized the richness of the coal fields. He saw that the lands could be obtained for a little or nothing and he believed that before many years the world would need the coal lands and if he lived until the railroads came, wealth would be his.

Mayo went to work on this plan. Mountain coal lands could be bought for fifty cents an acre. Control could be secured even cheaper, through options, as the occupants of the land would sell options on immense tracts for a few dollars.

Money was scarce in the mountains and the titles to the land were doubtful anyway. All the land in Eastern Kentucky had been given away at the close of the war under what were known as the Virginia grants. But as the original holders and their direct descendants had not occupied the land, settlers gradually came in, took possession, and in a few years were looked upon as the rightful holders. But there was always the possibility that heirs of the original owners would dispute their claim.

Mayo believed that the courts would decide for the settlers who had improved the land, so he bought options from them.

Mayo had made his calculations wisely and just in time. In the early nineties the development of the mountains began. Capital turned its attention to the possibilities there and the mining of coal began. Mayo was able to start mining on some of his property and acquired more capital with which he bought more land and more options.

In 1901 Mayo made his first big strike when he organized the Consolidated Coal Company, with Baltimore and Pittsburg capitalists. For his holdings which went into the company Mayo received $250,000 and $250,000 in stock. In a year he had organized four more companies and had his first million.

Since that time his advance has been rapid. Associated with the Cambdens and other coal magnates, he has gone about the development of Eastern Kentucky, which is now in the first stages of a great industrial era. For several years Mayo has been interested in Democratic state politics. Last year he came to the front as one of Gov. McCreary's chief supporters and he is now recognized as one of the most forceful Democrats in the state.

Mayo's friends believe that the abilities which have raised him from a mountain school teacher to a multi-millionaire will make him a power in the Democratic national councils.

Steam Roller Has Flattened Out The Colonel and Made Him Awful Sore.

Taft Having Trouble To Hold His Wild West Delegates.

Chicago, June 14.—Eight delegates for Colonel Roosevelt and 18 for President Taft marked yesterday's gains of the two chief rivals for the republican presidential nomination, from the decision of contest cases by the republican national committee. In addition the committee settled disputes between rival Roosevelt factions in two districts of North Carolina, thus clearing the colonel's title to votes from those sections.

At the end of a week of constant work over the contested delegations the committee has given President Taft a total of 159 delegates and Colonel Roosevelt a total of 13.

The contests remaining involve two delegates from North Carolina, eight from Tennessee, 30 from Texas, 20 from Virginia, 14 from Washington, two from Alaska, two from Oklahoma, two from South Carolina and two from the District of Columbia.

Ice Cream Supper.

The "Black Jack" School Improvement League will give an ice cream supper Saturday night June 22, for the benefit of the School. Every body invited.

Chicago, June 14.—Something slipped in the Taft machine yesterday. Defections from Taft began in the North, the Idaho delegation of eight, two of whom are claimed by Taft, meeting and resolving to support Roosevelt as a unit, while from the East came the rumor that four of Taft's twelve delegates in Pennsylvania have resolved to vote for Senator Cummins on the first ballot.

The National Committee, after giving Roosevelt eight and Taft six of the contested delegates in Missouri, adjourned suddenly before its usual hours, offering peculiar explanations.

Gloom appeared on the faces of prominent Taft men when the temporary chairmanship was referred to, while the Roosevelt people appeared so cocky on that score as to spread the report that they are to unite with the La Follette forces on Gov. Francis E. McGovern, of Wisconsin, or Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, and elect him over Root.

CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL VOTED

SCHOOL LOCATED AT ELMO

Five Schools To Be Combined Into One Big One In South Christian.

The meeting held at Elmo looking to the consolidation of the Lunderman, Elmo, Gordonfield, Longview and Oak Grove schools into one Consolidated Rural School, was enthusiastically participated in and the plan adopted by a vote of 42 to 15.

Addresses were made by Mrs. Chas. P. Weaver, of Louisville, Miss Jennie West, and by Prof. Rollow, of Montgomery county.

Mr. Chas E. Barker was chairman of the meeting. Two sessions were held, a bountiful dinner being served at the noon recess.

The boundaries of the consolidated district were agreed to and a committee appointed to meet the county board of education today and petition them to take the necessary action in the matter. Mr. Isaac Garrett is chairman of this committee and the other members are Messrs. E. R. Perkins and J. T. Garrett, with Mr. C. E. Barker as a member ex officio.

The new system will provide for a central school with vehicles to transport the children from the surrounding country. The plan has given great satisfaction wherever tried.

NEW CORPORATION

Articles Filed and Business Begins To-day.

Articles of incorporation of The Majestic Amusement Company were filed with the county clerk Thursday. The incorporators are J. W. Smith, J. L. Shrode, W. T. Grau and R. F. McDaniel and the capital stock is $5,000, divided into fifty shares of $100 each. The business to be conducted will be to purchase, lease or otherwise acquire lands and buildings for use of opera houses, photo plays or moving picture shows, and for all other forms of amusement, entertainment and instruction of the public and individuals, also to equip, own, operate and manage same.

The new corporation will begin business to-day.

TITANIC INQUIRY

Steamship Californian Censured For Not Going To Rescue.

London, June 14.—The British court of inquiry into the Titanic disaster will find that the steamer Californian defaulted from duty. At today's hearing Lord Mersey, the president stated without qualification:

"I have no doubt that the Californian did see distress signals, that they were signals from the Titanic, and that the Californian ought to have made efforts to get to the Titanic."

Dodging Conventions.

Beginning Monday the Senate will meet at three intervals. It will convene Monday and adjourn until June 20, and again adjourn until July 1. Beginning June 24, week of the Democratic National Convention, the House will probably take three-day adjournments, according to Majority Leader Underwood yesterday.

Mayfield has contracted for several blocks of brick streets.

EYES ALSO ON BALTIMORE

National Chairman and Secretary Have Opened Democratic Headquarters.

CHAIRMANSHIP IS UNSETTLED

No Serious Conferences On President Until After Chicago Event.

Baltimore, June 14.—National Chairman Mack came to Baltimore last night and after officially opening the headquarters of the Democratic national committee at the Belvidere, made an inspection of the convention hall. He was accompanied from New York by National Committeemen Roger C. Sullivan, of Illinois; Secretary Urey Woodson, of Kentucky, and Assistant Treasurer J. P. Doolin. The party was joined here by National Committeemen Goltra, of Missouri, who spent the day in Washington conferring with Speaker Champ Clark.

Mr. Mack said that the question of temporary chairmanship was still unsettled, saying: "We have talked about Judge Parker, Senator O'Gorman, Ollie James, Senator Kern and others for temporary presiding officer, and that is as far as we have got. As for the permanent chairmanship, that is a matter for the committee on permanent organization."

"What about the presidential candidates?" was asked.

"I can say this, that there will be no serious conferences on the presidential nominations until after the Chicago convention," replied Chairman Mack, who added that the principal planks in the Baltimore platform would be the tariff, the high cost of living and the trusts.

FUGITIVE CAUGHT

Wesley Edwards Is Captured by the Chief of Police of Clay City.

Lexington, Ky., June 14.—Wesley Edwards, a member of the Allen clan which raided the courthouse at Hillsboro, Va., on March 14 and assassinated the judge, the prosecutor and the sheriff of the court, besides killing and wounding a number of others, was arrested this morning by Chief of Police A. B. Pettit, of Clay City, forty miles east of Lexington, if the belief of the authorities at that place is correct.

The man, who gave his name as Hathley and said he was from West Virginia, answers the description of the long-sought fugitive in every particular, and Chief Pettit is now waiting an answer from the Virginia authorities in regard to the prisoner. Chief Pettit received a letter Tuesday morning from Frank Wyatt of Jackson, Ky., who knows both the Edwards and the Allens, saying that Sidna Allen and Wesley Edwards were headed towards Clay City and giving him a description of the men. Pettit took the tip and watched all trains and roads leading into the city. He arrested his prisoner as he was boarding a freight train to leave Clay City.

Lose One, Gain Another.

Mr. G. A. Bleich and family have moved to Owensboro where Mr. Bleich will shortly open a new picture show theater to be called the "Empress." The Woodard house on South Virginia street vacated by Mr. Bleich has been rented to Mr. M. A. Mason, who will occupy it until January 1, when he will remove to his farm.

Uncle Joe Cannon says he will not attend the Chicago Convention next week, as he doesn't think he could help much.

Governor Tasker L. Oddie of Nevada has appointed Geo. Wingfield, of Reno, friend and business associate of the late Senator G. S. Nixon, as United States senator until the meeting of the legislature in January, 1913.

The United States took possession of Cuba Jan. 1, 1899, and set the Cubans up in business, but in 1906 was forced to intervene to put down a revolution. President Taft was then Governor General of Cuba and his report suggested that Cuba should be annexed. In 1909 the Cubans were again left to themselves and now in three years another occupation is necessary. Perhaps the time has come.

The Glasgow Times has adopted the cash in advance plan and will hereafter stop papers when they are cut. The Kentuckian has tried this plan for two or three years and has found it far more satisfactory than the old credit system. And the subscribers themselves soon come to like a system by which they can stop a paper without "killing the editor and burning the office."

GUARD CROP REPORTS

SYSTEM BY WHICH ESTIMATES ARE OBTAINED IN ADVANCE.

Greatest Secrecy is Observed to Make Certain That There Shall Be No Leak About the Yield Ahead of Time.

In all the affairs of the government there is no such carefully guarded secret, no such momentous mystery as the crop reports which are issued by the Department of Agriculture. Where these relate to the great speculative crops, such as cotton and wheat, immense harm might be done by a premature leaking out of information, and hence the extraordinary precautions taken to prevent anything of the kind.

Advance knowledge of government figures for the cotton crop, for instance, even though it might anticipate their official publication by only 24 hours, would be worth many millions of dollars, perhaps, to a few speculative and unscrupulous persons. They could buy or sell on an enormous scale with a certainty of winning, inasmuch as the great puzzle, whether the market was to go up or down, would be solved for them ahead of time.

No wonder, then, that the members of the crop reporting board, which holds its sessions in the old brick building of the Department of Agriculture, are selected as much for trustworthiness as for knowledge of their business.

Suppose it is a question of a cotton report. Notice has been published in advance that this report will be given out at a certain minute of a certain hour on a certain day. On that day, awaiting the hour and minute, two telegraph companies have men and instruments in the department building. The board is in session with all doors locked, all telephones in its office rooms are disconnected, and there is no communication with the outside. Nobody comes in or goes out except by special written permission of the Secretary of Agriculture.

It all seems tremendously secret and mysterious. But at the appointed minute the doors are thrown open, and copies of the report, freshly mimeographed inside, are given out to all comers. Nobody has precedence of anybody else. The telegraph operators, whose wires have been held open for the news, flash it all over the country.

Now, it is obvious that the production of this and other crop reports requires elaborate machinery, so to speak, and the services of many thousands of persons. It is altogether a big affair; yet there are few persons who have any definite notion of the method by which the facts and figures demanded for the purpose are collected and put together.

To start with, it should be said that there are three sources of original information on such subjects. Representing the first of these sources are the so-called "township correspondents"—one or more of them in each township in the United States. Their number in any given township depends upon the size and agricultural importance of the latter. Such correspondents number about 33,000. They are unpaid volunteers—public-spirited farmers and other good citizens who are willing to help the government in this important work.

County correspondents are the second source of information. The bureau has one correspondent in every agricultural county in the United States—about 2,800 in all—and this man has three or more neighbors or friends who report to him regularly on the same subjects of crop conditions, yield and acreage.

Third source: In each state there is a so-called "state statistical agent," who gets a salary from the bureau—from $300 a year up, the pay being small in consideration of the fact that the work occupies only part of his time. Reporting regularly to him on the subjects already mentioned are numbers of volunteer "aids." In a big agricultural state such as Kansas, or Texas, or Michigan, there might be from 500 to 1,000 such aids; in a small state of less agricultural importance there would be proportionately fewer.

Shook Up by Earthquake. Early one Saturday morning recently an alarming earthquake shock was felt all over the Campsie district, Stirlingshire, Scotland, but was of short duration. The inhabitants were awakened by their beds sinking beneath them and dishes rattling on the shelves. In other houses dishes fell. Night workers at the railway station describe how outhouses shook, and they felt as if the ground was giving way beneath their feet.

And Very Far. "I think it the strangest thing in the world that gossip is considered unreliable."

"Why so?" "Because whatever it says, goes."

Mathematical Longevity. "I wonder anybody wants to live by clockwork."

"Why not?" "Because such a one's hours are numbered."

HYPNOTIC EYE ROUTS A BEAR

Director Holmes of the Bureau of Mines has an exciting encounter in Alaska.

Hypnotism, which he studied for amusement when a young man, saved the life of Dr. Joseph A. Holmes, director of the Bureau of Mines, while he was in Alaska recently. He has returned to Washington and relates a thrilling story of his encounter with a brown bear. Several geologists who witnessed the incident bear out Dr. Holmes in his assertion that he put the wounded and infuriated animal to flight by merely waving his arms and casting piercing glances at the advancing enemy. Holmes tells the story thus:

"I had been way up in north central Alaska with several scientists looking over the coal fields when one of our party saw a bear. He was a big fellow; you probably know that the largest bears to be found anywhere in the world are in Alaska, and he wasn't a great distance from us.

"One of the boys who carried a gun took careful aim and fired. The bullet struck the bear in the left hind leg. With a roar the bear leaped into the air and within a few minutes was hot on our trail. We all ran.

"For some reason the bear, with his head low and growling all the while, paid no attention to the other men and hoisted for me. I ran as fast as I could with the bear after me. I would look back every few steps and soon I found that, although the bear was limping, he was getting over the ground pretty rapidly and was steadily gaining.

"At last when I saw that I could not escape and that I was losing strength and becoming winded rapidly, I turned around and faced the bear. He seemed surprised that I had given up the chase and stopped short within twenty feet of me.

"I looked at him, got his eye and motioned to him with my hands. Strange as it may seem, that bear, mad as he was, stood motionless for a minute or two—it seemed an hour to me—and finally with a loud grunt limped away.

"He had not gone more than a hundred yards until one of the boys—the one who wounded him—fired a second shot and killed the bear instantly.

"It was just a case of bluff with me. I tried some hypnotism on that bear as a last resort and using the slang expression, 'I got away with it.' I will admit I was scared. I had a right to be. When boy I used to read up on hypnotism just for the fun of the thing and now I realize that it was time well spent, for if I hadn't done what I did I really think that bear would have made a meal of me. Some of my friends up in Alaska skinned that bear and have promised to send me his hide for a souvenir."

MAKES SHIPS UNSINKABLE

New Invention That is Being Tried Out on American War Vessels.

An invention for keeping water from entering ships through holes by means of compressed air is being tested on board the battleship North Carolina. Captain C. C. Marsh, commander of the North Carolina, thinks that the use of the apparatus will prevent vessels from going to the bottom following collisions, or when hit by torpedoes or shells, and declares it will revolutionize marine warfare. The invention is merely an adaptation to the compartments of ships of the science of air pressure as already applied to tunnel building. It was developed by one of the engineers of the subway in this city.

Want New Colorado Park.

The establishment of a national park in Colorado, totally different in character, it is said, from any existing park, and much closer to the center of population than any of the present reservations, is recommended in a number of letters received by Secretary of the Interior Fisher.

"The general idea of having a large park at or near the place proposed appeals to me personally," said Secretary Fisher, "but before such action could be taken it would be necessary to have an examination made of the territory. Therefore it would be necessary to submit the matter to congress, as the department has no available money even for the survey."

The park as proposed would include an area of about 600,000 acres. Portions of Grand, Jackson, Larimer and Boulder counties would be included and the park would take in Longs Peak, Grand lake and the canyons of the Big Thompson river.

For Good Roads, Forty-Four Millions.

Nearly $4,000,000 has been spent in road improvements by the southern states alone during the past year, according to Secretary Wilson. This enormous total is made up by expenditures in the various states as follows:

Alabama, $3,404,000; Arkansas, $2,450,000; Florida, $1,805,000; Georgia, $2,500,000; Kentucky, $2,500,000; Louisiana, $1,143,354; Maryland, $2,250,000; Mississippi, $2,130,000; North Carolina, $4,505,000; Oklahoma, $1,605,000; South Carolina, $1,100,000; Tennessee, $3,900,000; Texas, $7,600,000; Virginia, $4,040,000, and West

TAKING IT TO THE PEOPLE

A GREAT deal is being said nowadays throughout this country about taking public problems direct to the people. This is what President Taft and Col. Roosevelt have been doing lately, and what all those interested in great public questions must do more and more as the years go by.

In the forthcoming Chautauqua here many important problems will be discussed. It is impossible for all the people in the United States to attend any one Chautauqua. The Chautauqua must be taken to the people eventually in nearly every county of the land where the population warrants it. The Redpath Bureau under whose direction the Chautauqua in this county is being given this year, is the greatest factor in the world today in this work of carrying a Chautauqua Program to the people. More than 250 Chautauquas are operated under Redpath management and the number is rapidly increasing.

Send word to all your friends to come to our forthcoming Chautauqua. Especially if they have never before attended a Chautauqua program, it will be a revelation to them.

"TRAITORS TO JUSTICE." The above title is the subject of the address to be given before our forthcoming Chautauqua here by Judge Marcus A. Kavanagh of the Superior Court, Chicago. This lecture is typical of several great messages which will be delivered here Chautauqua Week. Tell your friends about it.

LOCAL pride should center in the forthcoming Chautauqua here. It is a really notable event and its success will mean much to the future of this community and this county. Everyone should be a booster.

J Pierpont Morgan has purchased Duxbury's copy of Foxe's Book of Martyrs, from the Bedford, England, library. The purchase price was $10,000.

The "rat killing day" inaugurated by J. R. Strickland, Princeton, Ind., was observed Wednesday with such success in and about Princeton that 2,000 rats were killed.

Last Wednesday was a busy day with Lillian Russell the actress. She reached Pittsburgh at 2 a. m. from Cincinnati, was married to A. P. Moore at 10 a. m., gave a matinee at 2 p. m., an evening performance at 8 p. m. and after the last show at once took a night train for Chicago. Whether or not she lost Mr. Moore in the shuffle was not stated. He is a newspaper man and was probably hard to lose. Miss Russell has been married frequently and knows how to change husbands without losing a stage date.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound, impeded voice, and deafness. It is entirely cured. Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; no cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular free.

WIFE'S HEALTH RESTORED

Husband Declared Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Would Restore Her Health, And It Did.

Ashland, Ky.—"Four years ago I seemed to have everything the matter with me. I had female and kidney trouble and was so bad off I could hardly rest day or night. I consulted with all the best doctors in town and took many kinds of medicine but nothing did any good until I tried your wonderful remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My husband said it would restore my health and it has." —
Mrs. MAY WYATT, Ashland, Ky.

There are probably hundreds of thousands of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over thirty years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering. Read What Another Woman says:

Camden, N. J.—"I had female trouble and a serious displacement and was tired and discouraged and unable to do my work. My doctors told me I never could be cured without an operation, but thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I am cured of that affliction and have recommended it to more than one of my friends with the best results." —
Mrs. ELLA JOHNSTON, 324 Vine St.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

EDGEWATER PARK OPENS

Formally Opened To The Public Yesterday Afternoon.

SPEECH BY THE MAYOR

Responded To By Alvin H. Clark In Eloquent Address.

The formal opening of Edgewater Park, Hopkinsville's bathing and boating resort, took place yesterday evening at five o'clock as had been arranged. The formalities were simple. A brief address was made by Mayor Meacham presenting the park to the public and Mr. Alvin H. Clark responded in a speech of acceptance on behalf of the young people. The water now fills the reservoir above the dam and the river is fine for boating as well as bathing.

Several swimming parties are planned for next week. Many young ladies have taken membership in the Edgewater Bathing and Boating Club and the new resort is going to start out on a wave of popularity. Mr. Hugh Nelson, the Custodian, is greatly pleased with the prospects.

Purely Personal

Miss Helen Allen, of Paducah, is visiting friends in the city.

Mrs. S. A. Pace and children have gone to Hardinsburg for a visit to relatives.

Charles McKee is visiting his brother, Ellis McKee, at Jonesboro. Mesdames T. S. Winfree and Thos. Baugh are attending the W. C. T. U. convention in Princeton.

Miss Lois Finnell returned last Wednesday from Hopkinsville, where she taught the past session. She has as guests, Misses Addie Green, of Hopkinsville, Frances Pendleton, of Pembroke, and Laura Lowe, of Granville, Ohio.—Georgetown Times.

Misses Annie Pierce, Elizabeth McGee, Annie Hord, Ollie Cato, Mary Effie Means, Annie Cato, Nell Coleman, Lena Foster, Martha McElanahan, Gwynneth Bartley and Messrs. B. F. Brown and G. W. Atkinson returned Thursday night from Bowling Green, where they attended the Western Kentucky Normal School.

Harry Boyd has gone to Port Arthur, Canada, where he has a position.

Mrs. C. D. Bell is at a sanitorium in Evansville this week for treatment.

Mr. John M. Cate has returned from Vanderbilt University and will shortly go to Monteagle, Tenn.

Hon. Jno. C. Duffy returned yesterday from a trip to the other end of the district and is still undecided about entering the contest for Congress. The shortness of the time is his principal handicap, as petitions must be filed in ten days.

Dr. R. H. Perry and wife returned yesterday to their home in Dawson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wynn, of Princeton, are visiting relatives in the city and county.

AVIATION MEET IS POSTPONED

Weather Conditions Interfere With it at Very Last Moment.

HEAVY RAIN THE FIRST DAY.

Another Date Will Be Announced By Mr. Prowse in the Near Future.

After a week of almost ideal weather, the 13th brought bad luck to the Aero Club's meet Thursday afternoon. Just about the hour for the aeroplane to begin its program of flights, a stiff breeze arose and continued until it brought a hard rain about 4:30 o'clock, spoiling the first day.

The weather was bright yesterday, but because of predictions for more unsettled weather and for the further reason that the grounds were very muddy, Judge Prowse yesterday announced the postponement of the flights.

Mr. C. N. Lockwood will remain and begin to make daily practice flights as soon as the weather will permit. He expects to extend some of them over the city to show that the new machine is in thorough working order, and then a new date will be fixed for the event postponed.

Family Reunion.

Dr. George N. Campbell, of Philadelphia, who came here several days ago to visit his sisters, Misses Sallie, Frankie and Lute Campbell, has been joined by his wife. Ben U. Campbell, the other brother, who is a railroad official at Etawah, Tenn., has also arrived and the family reunion is complete.

Mrs. M. E. Bacon, is visiting relatives in Marion.

Are You A Woman?

Baltimore, Md.—Mrs. W. H. Ison, at 1419 East Madison street, writes: "For several years, I suffered, off and on, from female troubles, until finally I was taken down and could do nothing. The pains I experienced, I shall never forget. I lost weight till I was only skin and bones. I believe I would have been in my grave, if I had not tried Cardui. I shall praise it as long as I live." Many women, like Mrs. Ison, are weak and discouraged, on account of some painful ailment. Are you one of these sufferers? Cardui will help you. Try it today. Any druggist.

Dangers of Spitting.

"Ninety-five per cent. of our consumption," says the North Carolina State Board of Health, "comes from careless spitting, coughing and sneezing," particularly on the part of the consumptive, but also from people who are apparently healthy. "Spit is frequently laden with deadly disease germs, particularly that of consumptives."

"When one coughs, spits, or sneezes, a great multitude of tiny drops of spittle are violently expelled from the mouth and nose. The largest of these drops can be readily seen. A large number of smaller droplets can be found if a mirror or piece of glass is held before the face when coughing or sneezing. A tremendous quantity of still smaller droplets are discharged in the form of an invisible spray or mist, which floats about in the air for some time. Scientists have found that when a man coughs, spits or sneezes in a large hall or room where the air is quiet, these tiny, invisible germ-laden droplets will float in the air for a distance of 25 to 100 feet. These tiny droplets, in the form of mist or spray, may be breathed in by other people, or they may settle on objects with which they come into intimate contact, such as food and clothing. Viewed in this light, such conduct is at least impolite. Furthermore, it is dangerous to the public at large to have careless people actually coughing, sneezing and spitting germ-laden matter into their faces, even if it is invisible and in the form of fine mist."

Consumption and Genius.

Not a few of the world's greatest geniuses in art, science, and literature have died from tuberculosis, and on this account certain writers, such as Dr. Arthur Jacobson or Dr. John B. Huber, think that possibly this disease may provide a certain stimulus to the genius of an already great man. The following are some of the great men and women of letters mentioned by Dr. Jacobson who have died from tuberculosis: John Milton, John Locke, Alexander Pope, Dr. Samuel Johnson, Sir Walter Scott, Elizabeth Barrett Browning, Goethe, Robert Louis Stevenson, Sidney Lanier, Ralph Waldo Emerson, Voltaire, John Ruskin, Charles Kingsley, Immanuel Kant, Rousseau, E. P. Roe, and Paul Lawrence Dunbar. Among other great men who are reported to have died of tuberculosis may be mentioned Raphael, von Weber, Chopin, Nevin, Calvin, Cicero, and Cecil Rhodes.

Feudist for Governor.

Bluefield, W. Va., June 14.—That the Hatfield-McCoy feud, one of the oldest and bloodiest in the history of the West Virginia-Kentucky border, has ended for all time was indicated when Dr. H. J. Hatfield, cousin of "Devil Anse" Hatfield, leader of the Hatfield clan, received a telegram from A. J. McCoy, leader of the McCoy faction, endorsing his candidacy for governor of West Virginia. The telegram was dated at Princeton, W. Va., and read:

"Greetings to Dr. Halford from a McCoy. Congratulations. That you may win in November is my desire."

Dr. Hatfield was nominated for governor at the Republican primaries last week.

COME BACK TO THE TARIFF

All Artificial Prices of Which the People Complain Are Found to Center There.

One fact, one that every man of practical sense can grasp, was very clearly set forth in the speech of a prominent Democratic leader at the Reform club:

"No doubt there are many reasons why modern business has been organized on lines of wide combination. No doubt, too, there are many causes, natural as well as artificial, which lie underneath the rise in prices, but, however, economists may argue this matter, or whatever general laws and tendencies they may disclose, we have only to read the testimony taken at trials instituted by the government or investigations instituted by congress; we have only to dig a little way into the tariff schedules themselves and get experts to explain to us the real significance of here a phrase and there a fraction, to see the whole business laid bald and bare before us by which systematic advantage has been taken of the tariff to raise prices without awaiting the assistance of economic laws, and without regarding either justice or the rights of the public. The tariff is the mother of artificial prices because it is the foster-mother of monopoly, and only when these roots of the whole evil thing are touched shall we begin to get control of the forces which have all but mastered us."

To paraphrase the word of the illustrious French statesman, Leon Gambetta: "The tariff, that is the enemy!" And it is an enemy that every man with a vote can get at—New York Times.

CAN SHOW A CLEAN RECORD

Democratic Representatives Have Done Their Duty to Their Constituents and Party.

The one issue on which a Democratic house was elected in 1910 was the high cost of living and the downward revision of the tariff. Chairman Underwood of the committee on ways and means is fully justified in claiming credit for his party for having fulfilled its pledges so far as lay in its power.

The tariff bills passed during the extra session of congress last year came to naught through the veto of Mr. Taft. During the present session the house has passed the wool bill, the sugar bill, the metals bill and the chemical bill, and not one of them has yet been favorably acted upon in the senate or even brought to a vote. The failure of tariff revision since the 1910 elections does not rest with the Democratic house. The responsibility for failure belongs to the senate and the president, both Republican.

Never at any time has the Democratic party been more united on the tariff issue than it is today. It has been true to its promises and to the needs and demands of the country. No other issue of the day is of greater interest and importance to the people than lower taxes on the necessities of life at a period when prices are excessive and artificially stimulated by the system of high protection. The tariff is still in politics. In spite of the optimistic plans of Mr. Taft and because of his veto policy, and in the coming election, on their record in the house, the Democrats have all the advantage of position.

Blame Rest on Roosevelt.

The chickens do certainly come home to roost, in national as well as in individual affairs. But for Mr. Roosevelt's spoilation of Panama, but for the shock that he gave to Spanish American confidence in our integrity, there would be no such fanatical jealousy and suspicion on the part of Mexico as we see today and there would be no doubt of our ultimate motives, whatever we might think it necessary to do. A European warship might today land troops in Mexico with less danger of a conflagration than was caused by the dozen American soldiers who carelessly strolled across the bridge at El Paso. American interests of incalculable magnitude are now at stake in Mexico and the burden of our responsibility for those interests has been rendered doubly grievous by the action of Mr. Roosevelt, who first committed an act of piracy in the name of the American people and then boasted of it before the world.

Roosevelt Didn't Permit Suit.

Former Attorney-General Bonaparte now explains that he "had forgotten the existence" of the letter from President Roosevelt directing him "not to file the suit (against the Harvester trust) until I hear from you." And he adds: "I did after receiving it just exactly what I would have done if I hadn't received it—that is to say, I completed the departmental inquiry and then reported to the president that I thought the suit should be brought." But the suit against the Harvester trust was not filed. Mr. Roosevelt did not permit it.

Made Friends of Mammon. The Roosevelt policy was to distinguish between "good trusts" and "bad trusts" and to make sure of the political and financial support for his administration of the good trusts, including especially those "far-reaching Morgan interests generally."

Need anybody be surprised that those interests, acting through George W. Perkins, are now seeking to make Theodore Roosevelt president of the United States once more? It could

HOTEL WAS LIKE DOG POUND

Many, and Various Kinds of Canines Overrun Hostelry in Puerto Rico City.

Robert O. Bailey, assistant secretary of the treasury, has a sense of humor.

A few years ago, when Bailey was working for the Associated Press, he accompanied the rivers and harbors committee on their tour in various places, including Puerto Rico. When they landed at Puerto Rico he heard an Irish stewardess on the boat express a wish that she might purchase a native dog to take home as a souvenir. That was enough for Bailey. He excused himself from the rest of the party, engaged an interpreter, and went up through the marts, where he told every man, woman and child who would listen that there was a woman at your hotel whose soul craved a Puerto Rican dog.

Within thirty minutes a vast con course of natives, each leading from one to four ill-favored dogs, had gathered at the hotel that harbored the rivers and harbors committee, and certain members of the committee, who got tired of stepping on a dog every time they moved, were considerably peevish over the situation. For a time no man dared rise on his tiptoes lest he make a dog squeal shrilly when he let his heels down again.

It had been planned to give the visitors something of an ovation, but their hotel looked so much like a pound during hydrophobia scare that few of the entertainment committee could get within handshaking distance.

But the Irish stewardess succeeded in buying a dog. She got it for 15 cents.

"And," says Robert O. Bailey, "that was the only feature of the day that made me feel guilty, for she was a hard-working woman, and she got cheated."

COST HIS SALARY TO SLEEP

Newly Elected Senator Discovers That $650 a Month Is Not Considered High Price.

A newly elected senator came on early to Washington to arrange for rooms, and had an object lesson furnished him on "the high cost of living"—the winning slogan in the recent campaign. He wanted to start in "with the swim" and he at the center of things so he priced the "focal" hotel.

"We make it $650 per month, two rooms and bath, to you, senator—with out meals," said the clerk dreamily. When the senator caught his breath, he was two blocks up the avenue.

He tried another hotel; a moderate exclusive house whose lobbies were a sort of eddying pool of statesmen and "influential" lobbyists. To him the attendant flamed of this gilded shrine remarked: "Now, we have a choice two rooms with bath, at $350 per month—"

"Without eating—just for a sleeping-place!" broke in the senator, "why, I'd burn up with fever if I had to sleep at that price!"

The salary of a senator is $7,500, and it is figured on the high level of "simple living" in Washington that he ought to part with that much for assured rest at a good hotel. But the new senator didn't feel that way about it. Finally it was suggested that he might take a room at the simple hotel of the old days, at one dollar per twenty-four hours and save money, using the parcel room for baggage when away over Sunday. Then he could take a peep at Peacock Alley and meet friends in the "lobby" which the more wealthy statesmen and tourists support.—National Magazine.

Merrimac's Mascot Dead.

The mascot of the Merrimac is dead. It will be remembered that the Merrimac is the ship which gave Representative Richmond Pearson Hobson all his fame. He tried to sink it in Santiago bay, across the mouth of the harbor, to stop the entrance into the harbor of the Spanish ships, but was unable to accomplish his purpose. The boat went to the bottom, but it did not interfere with commerce. He had on the Merrimac with him a fox terrier "Gyp," and when he left the ill-fated boat he carried with him "Gyp." The dog lived quite the limit of a dog's life, being 14½ years old when he died. The dog was put in a casket and laid to one side until the ground can thaw sufficiently to dig the grave, then it is reported he is to have an elaborate funeral.

Their Laughter Premature.

Among insurance stockholders and racetrack owners of New York there much glee over an error made by a postoffice clerk in Washington, who handled a letter addressed to "Hon. Charles E. Hughes." Writing "deceased" across the envelope, the clerk returned the letter to its writer.

The mistake came through the clerk's supposing the letter was for the late Senator Charles J. Hughes of Colorado, instead of New York's former governor, now associate justice of the Supreme court.

Several "deceased" race tracks around New York and a lot of insurance company schemes that are very dead bear mute evidence to his qualities as a killer, but he and his whalers still live.

Not Surprised.

"This wine," said Mr. Bluffer, proudly, "has been in my cellar for thirty years."

Mr. Kauter, who is something of a connoisseur, sipped his portion critically. "I don't wonder," he murmured.

WOMEN CAPITAL PEST

BOTHER THE LIFE OUT OF OUR NATION'S REPRESENTATIVES.

Feminine Time-Wasters of All Classes and Sorts Camp Persistently on the Trails of Lawmakers in Washington.

There are a great many people who think that members of Congress have nothing else to bother them but the making of the nation's laws. They imagine that, unless for a stray lobbyist now and then, they are never disturbed from their arduous duties of lawmaking. Such is far from the case and the principal harassers of our national representatives are to a great per cent, women. These feminine time-wasters are women of all classes and sorts and represent every variety of life from the poor woman who wants a government position for her sickly husband to the home stater who merely wishes to call on the member from her part of the country. In the capitol there are two rooms for these women callers, one for those wishing to see the congressmen and another for those who are looking for the senators.

In each of these rooms there is a young woman who takes charge of the callers. The young woman in charge of the Congress waiting room has the most trouble, for the callers are more numerous and more bothersome. As they come in they go to her desk and tell her whom they wish to see and she takes their card and, writing instructions on it, sends it into the representative desired. The pages who carry these cards back and forth are generally kept very busy and often come in for ugly calls down from disappointed callers.

When the legislature at Washington is in full session the members are generally very busy and absorbed in the nation's business. If they are fighting for a measure which is of national import they have very little time to be explaining difficulties and arranging little minor matters for unreasonable women who imagine that their little trouble is the only one in the world and should therefore be adjusted at once. Just at present both houses are busily engaged with measures which are vastly important to the whole country; they have little time to spare and yet if one were to stroll through the capitol today he would find that little waiting room crowded with women who are filled with that unconscious presumption that encourages them to protrude their little affairs to the front at the expense of the nation's most important business. When the cause of "Women's Rights" come to its own it will be a toss-up between the nation's business and the tangled affairs of a pink tea or bridge party.

One of the old gags that the members work on callers whom they desire to dodge is, when the page comes to them with a call, they move to a vacant seat and send out word that they are not in their seat. The page who has to deliver this message, which is not a lie, generally comes in for trouble, as oftentimes the caller goes to the gallery and, seeing that the member is on the floor, goes back to the unlucky page and vents her ire on him. The congressmen, who are not without human instinct, generally reward the page for his trouble. This "Female-caller" nuisance is not a new one and while women continue to be unreasonable the waiting rooms of the capitol will always be filled.

Wireless Operators in Demand.

"Wireless operators—steady demand," is the market quotation hung up in the navigation bureau of the department of commerce and labor. The federal officials believe that eventually all ocean craft will be equipped with wireless telegraph apparatus and that the posts aboard ships should be tempting to operators.

About 600 vessels on the Atlantic and Pacific oceans and the Gulf of Mexico are already so equipped, an increase from about 350 a year ago. All have to get a certificate from the commissioner of navigation. Heretofore all have been examined at the various navy yards, but for the convenience of telegraph operators living in interior towns arrangements have been made by which they may be examined by the military authorities at Fort Omaha, Neb., the examinations there to be conducted from time to time.

Weird Indian Dances Barred.

It is for the economic and social good of the Indians, officials of the Indian bureau in Washington declared, that objection has been made to the sun, buffalo, willow and some of the other prolonged dances in which members of certain tribes indulge.

"Often these orgies, for that is what the dances practically amount to, consume several weeks of the Indians' time at a season when his farm needs his attention," said an official. "The interior department will continue to object to these dances."

What May Happen to Lifers.

A life term in prison who assaults another person with a deadly weapon is punishable with death under a decision announced by the Supreme court of the United States, upholding the constitutionality of a California statute. In so holding, the court declined to interfere with the death sentence imposed upon James W. Finley at Sacramento.

REAL HISTORIC ROOM

WHITE HOUSE APARTMENT WHERE HISTORY WAS MADE.

It is at the Head of the Main Flight of Stairs, and Has Been Used as an Office by Many of the Presidents.

Visitors in Washington seem generally to think that the east room of the White House is the "historic chamber" of the old building. The general run of sight-seers is likely to think on social events of importance as fixing the fame of a spot. It is true that the weddings of president's daughters to men of their choice have taken place in the east room, and that there great receptions have been held, and also, lest it be forgotten, that there a great wrestling match took place, presided over by a president of the United States and looked on more or less admiringly by cabinet officers, foreign ambassadors and ministers—but on such doings as these the east room's celebrity must hang.

At the head of the main flight of White House stairs is a room which is historic. In it the Monroe doctrine was formulated; in it Andrew Jackson prepared for his attack on the national bank, and in it he made up his mind what to do if nullification should be attempted in South Carolina. In this room overlooking the rear grounds of the White House beyond which lies the Potomac, Buchanan thought on the approach of civil war, and there struggled with himself on the question of duty. There he met Jefferson Davis and other southern statesmen, until that time loyal to the flag of the Union. In the room President Lincoln drafted his emancipation proclamation, and in it President McKinley spent the entire night following the destruction of the Maine in Havana harbor thinking on the awfulness of war and notwithstanding urgings that it should begin at once.

This room on the second floor of the White House has been an office or used as a study and a library of presidents since the time that the building was erected. The office wing is of recent construction, having been completed just about the time that Theodore Roosevelt became president. Most of the messages which have been sent to congress on minor and major subjects were written in the second-story study of the executive mansion proper. It was the room in which foreign ambassadors were received by the president when charged with messages of moment. There Lincoln and his secretary of state and the British ambassador passed twelve hours of day and twelve hours of another in consultation, and at times in controversy, following the receipt of the news that the Confederate commissioners, Mason and Slidell, had been taken from the British ship Trent on the high seas and had been made prisoners of the United States.

When the office wing of the White House was built the study and office room became a study only. It is there that the president passes his evening, and it is there that he receives callers whose errands are of such a nature that they do not care to go publicly in the daylight hours to the room adjoining the cabinet-room in the office annex. Originally it was an office, a study and a library. The books on the shelves have changed with each incoming administration, and they have reflected the literary tastes of the incumbent in office.

When President Roosevelt was in the White House the study was in nature that of a circulating library. He had hooks upon all kinds of subjects, although nature books and hunting books predominated. It is said, however, that there was not a book on fishing in the whole collection, for Mr. Roosevelt liked every other kind of outdoor sport, but never went and never goes fishing, a fact which has been somewhat resented by the followers of the sport.

If presidents of the United States chose to receive gifts they could fill the east room, the study, the blue room, the green room and rooms of other colors. The presents, however, which presidents are allowed to take are few. Certain gifts have come from the powerful ones of the earth, foreign monarchs whose offerings could not be declined without giving offense, but as most of them have been articles of an innocuous kind they have been taken in the spirit in which they were given. King Menelik's gift was innocuous as long as it was kept behind bars. It consisted of two lions which his majesty was pleased to have Mr. Roosevelt accept some years ago. The beasts are now in a cage in the Zoological Garden in Rock Creek Park.

Paye for Stolen Mule.

A conscientious old Civil war veteran, who stole a mule from the government during his enlistment in the army, has sent Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh a draft for $200 to square the account and ease his mind. The contribution was forwarded through a Methodist minister at Greencastle, Ind. It will take a special act of congress to apply this money to any special fund.

SIX QUALIFY

AS Expert Riflemen In Co. D. Target Practice.

The target practice of the Co. D. in the range has been participated in this week by about 25 soldiers of the company, under the instruction of Capt. W. J. Boston, of Calhoun. Six soldiers have qualified for the shoot at Earlington in September. These are Arthur Boyd, Dixon Oliver, Cecil Armstrong, Joe Morris, Roy Putty and Paul Winn. These made a score above 98, out of a possible 150, Boyd making the best record, 121.

A number of others qualified as marksmen. Cap. Clark will go to Calloway next week to act as instructor for Capt. Boston's Company.

Do; Don't Talk.
Just do a thing and don't talk about it. This is the great secret of success in all enterprises. Talk means discussion; discussion means irritation; irritation means opposition, and opposition means hindrance always whether you are right or wrong.—Sarah Grand.

SALESLADIES

Will Not Work More Than 10 Hours A Day In Future.

One of the new laws now in effect prohibits women from being worked in stores or workshops more than ten hours a day. This will effect a great many girls and women who clerk in stores, who have been in the habit of working Saturday nights until 10 or 11 o'clock. Some of the merchants will meet the law by having the clerks who work at night report at noon.

Roasted Victim Alive.

An almost unbelievably cruel happening has come to light at Hiroshima, Japan. There a man and his wife have been arrested for willfully cremating a live man. The prisoners were in charge of a crematorium, and while at work a faint voice coming out of a coffin begged for fresh air. The couple took no notice, however, and proceeded to apply fire, roasting the man alive.

Wednesday's Games

At Cairo: Opportune hitting coupled with frequent errors by Cairo, nearly all of which were costly, gave Hopkinsville a 7 to 0 victory. Cairo's work was a complete reversal of form from yesterday.

Score: R. H. E.
Hopkinsville 7 12 1
Cairo 0 6 7
Batteries—Renner and Dayton; Hassell and Taylor.

AT EVANSVILLE.

Heavy hitting marked the concluding game of the series which went thirteen innings before Clarksville finally won out.

Score: R. H. E.
Evansville 5 17 6
Clarksville 6 14 4
Batteries—Gwin and Faulkner; Eisele, Celly and Basham.

AT HENDERSON.

Beck outpitched Phelps especially in the pinches, and Henderson won 6 to 3. Out of seven straight games played between these teams, Henderson won six.

Score: R. H. E.

Paducah 3 5 2
Batteries—Beck and Peck; Phelps and Osman.

Thursday's Games.

AT HENDERSON

After getting a five to nothing lead in the first two innings, Hopkinsville went to pieces and allowed Henderson to win out in a game that was called at the end of the sixth inning on account of rain.

Score: R. H. E.
Henderson 8 5 1
Batteries—Johnson and Dayton, Bailey and Peck.

AT EVANSVILLE.

One of the prettiest games of the season was broken up by rain in the seventh inning this afternoon, the Yankees winning, 3 to 1.

Score: R. H. E.
Evansville 3 6 3
Paducah 1 4 1
Batteries—Turner and Faulkner, Muñiz and Osman.

At Cairo—The Cairo-Clarksville game was postponed on account of rain.

Woman Mayor.

Dayton, Wyoming, was a wide-open town a few weeks ago. Saloons and gambling dens were running day and night in defiance of law. The better citizens of the village looked around for someone to lead them in a clean-up crusade, and finally agreed upon Mrs. Susan Wissler. They nominated her for mayor and in the recent election Dayton voters elected her by a good majority. Mrs. Wissler was no sooner inducted into office than she began carrying out her campaign pledges. The gambling dens were driven out and the saloons given to understand that they must obey the law. Mrs. Wissler is the first woman mayor that any Wyoming town has ever had.
